SLIGHTLY OFF.

The Journal this morning contains the following in an article favoring the passage of a bill creating a State Board of Equalization:

A rate of $10,000 per mile upon the Central Pacific would add one million dollars worth of taxable property for public purposes. True, Washoe county may be loser, but the State will be the gainer, and the bill ought to pass unanimously.

The ex-Senator should be more careful in making his calculations. A rate of $10,000 per mile upon the C. P. would add a little over $4,000 to the State's taxable property, and Washoe county's assessment roll would be reduced about $312,000.

The average value of the main line on the Central Pacific last year was $9,990.05 per mile and on sidings, $5,752.26. Washoe valued the road at $16,000 per mile, Lander at $12,000 and all the other counties at $9,000. The average assessment last year was within $9.35 per mile of the figure the Journal would make to increase the State's taxable property over one million dollars. The advantages to be derived from spending $6,000 to collect $4,000 are not fully explained in the Journal's "equalization" article.

"The truth is," says the Journal, "the State has lost thousands and thousands of dollars because it has not had a State Board of Equalization." The argument is about as logical as Mark Twain's story in his agricultural article, where he said the township had lost millions of dollars every year by pulling turnips green.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The aristocratic fling in Congressman Cassidy's paper at the miners who are working for $4 per day is but a sentiment freely spoken from a Democratic standpoint and will come home to roost ere long. A miner's vote helps to elect Congressmen, and it will become a paper to express contempt for the men who have done more to make Nevada a great State than all the high-toned officials Eureka county ever did or ever will produce.

Mr. Bell introduced a bill in the Assembly to-day providing for the consolidation of domestic and foreign corporations.

Mace and Chinamen.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.

The Chinese-American says: "Last week there was a contest between a very strong man and Mace. There is a statement that Mace will give $10,000 to anyone who can reduce Slade to a submissive condition, and that the contest is open to Chinamen." The writer concludes by observing that among the 3,000 assembled to witness the boxing match there was not one Chinaman.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

The Flood—The Ohio River Still Rising.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 12.

The flood of 1832 is now surpassed. Taking the most liberal standard it then reached 64 feet 3 inches. At 11 to-night it stood half an inch above that and is still rising. Reports from above indicate the river rising at Wheeling and falling at Marietta and Pomeroy. It will probably continue to rise here to-morrow. People at Lawrenceburg at last report were virtually helpless for lack of food and are unable to procure any. Half the telephone and telegraph lines are down and there are no means of communication. Arrangements are made here to mount fire engines on flats in case of fire in the flooded districts.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., Feb. 13.

The river rose eighteen inches last night and is still rising. All the houses and mills along the river are abandoned. Water got into the glass works furnaces last night and the fires are all out. Mr. Depauw will lose $100,000. About 3000 persons are out of employment. From three to five hundred families have had to move. Every available room on high ground is filled. The railroad track between here and Jeffersonville is abandoned. Ferry boats are only making occasional trips to the Kentucky side.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 13.

The river is forty-four feet, and not rising so fast to-day. Not much damage is done in the city, but a great deal in the low lands between Evansville and Henderson.

MADISON, Feb. 13.

Not much damage here so far. The railroad depot is flooded and the track under water for some distance. River still rising.

SHAWNEETOWN, Ills., Feb. 13.

The river is rising an inch and a quarter an hour. Citizens are moving into second stories. Much alarm is felt. Lawrenceburg, Ind., is entirely covered. Some houses are full to the second floor. The entire village of Hardentown is covered. Some of the people had to abandon their houses entirely.

HELENA, Ark., Feb. 13.

The river rose 15 inches in the past 24 hours. The people are preparing to repair bad places in the levees at once.

An Old Texan Veteran Dies in Poverty.

DALLAS, Texas, Feb. 12.

Ex-Judge William Lewis, a noted and recently rich character of State celebrity as author, lecturer and politician, died to-day in most abject poverty in the city hospital, to which he was removed yesterday from a miserable hovel on Camp street. He was the bosom friend and companion of General Sam Houston in the Texas revolution and participated in the battle of San Jacinto. Of late years he has been a zealous advocate of Greenback and anti-Monopoly principles, and a few years ago wrote a life of Sam Houston.

Death of a Notable Woman.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.

Maria B. Haydon, M. D., who has for thirty years been a practicing eclectic physician in Boston and in this city, died Sunday. Her practice was very extensive. Among her former patients were D. Lorillard, brother of Pierre Lorillard, and Horace Greeley. She attended the latter for several years and almost to the time of his death. Mrs. Haydon was a woman of ripe culture, and numbered among her intimate friends many whose names are prominent in the world of literature. Among them were Sir Edward Bulwer Lyons, Henry W. Longfellow and Wm. Cullen Bryant.

The Indian Territory Troubles—A Disposition to Fight.

MUSKOGEE, Ind. Ty., Feb. 12.

General Pleasant Porter, commander of the Constitutional or Government party of Creek Indians, left Muskogee on the 9th with 400 men for the camp of the rebel faction under Spiech. Meantime Major Tuft, United States Agent, has been busy with the Arbitration Committee appointed, to whom has been referred all causes of trouble. It is hoped a settlement will be reached, but it is a bare hope, however, as there are hot and prejudiced heads on both sides and a decided disposition to fight the matter out.

A Champion of Prohibition.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.

Hon. Jno. P. St. John, ex-Governor of Kansas, spoke at a meeting at Cooper Union last night under the auspices of the State Prohibitory Association. Alluding to his defeat and the recent canvass for Governor, he said he would rather be instrumental in raising one poor wretch from the gutter than climb over human wrecks to the highest office in the gift of the people.

High License and Low Groceries in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.

Considerable pressure has been brought from various directions for a high license for saloons, and the Council is considering the matter. As the Council contains several saloon-keepers of no very lofty type the prospect for the abolition of low groceries in Chicago is not flattering.

SHOCKING DISASTER.

A Railroad Depot Sinks Into Deep Water, Carrying With It an Unknown Number of Persons.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 13.

A shocking disaster is reported by telephone from the western part of the city. Both freight and passenger depots of the Cincinnati Southern Railway were undermined and fell into the surrounding water, carrying with them a hundred or more people. The depots were one story frame structures. The catastrophe was further hastened by the breaking of a sewer, which sent a current along the banks. Crowds of people have been in that vicinity looking at the floods, and it is supposed they are victims.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 13.

It is impossible yet to tell the extent of the disaster at the Southern Railroad depot. Only the freight depot went down. A great crowd of people was there looking at the floods when a small building near by went down. The crowd rushed over on the platform of the depot to see what was the matter, when suddenly the whole depot collapsed and sank into the water. The track was at the same time depressed and the cars standing close by ran into the depression, covering the people who had gone down with the falling structure. Not one body had been recovered to-day at 1 o'clock, nor could bystanders give any intelligent account of how many escaped. The work of recovering the drowned will be exceedingly difficult, as the place is isolated, with danger of other parts of the street melting as this portion. It is possible, however, that the break in the great sewer in McClean avenue caused the depot to sink.

Stockholders in a Copper Mine Get Their Backs up.

UTICA, Feb. 13.

William Whelan, President of the Whelan Consolidated copper mine of Eureka, Nev., was arrested in Albany Saturday and brought to this city on a warrant obtained here, charging him with fraud in connection with the mine. Whelan interested citizens of Utica last Fall in copper mines, referring them to ore sent to Boston, to proofs in the central office at Chicago and to the mines themselves. An examination of the ore in Boston is claimed to have been entirely satisfactory and over $20,000 were put into the scheme here, stock being taken by scores of persons, the largest amount by W. P. Fish of the Utica Gas Company. A. D. Barber took $50. Investments were also made, it is understood, by persons in Albany and Western New York aggregating $60,000. An expert was subsequently sent to Nevada and made depressive reports. Three copper mines consolidated are there, but, in the opinion of the expert they were not worth working. No work was being done on them. On receiving this report the Utica stockholders, in concert with others of Albany, by representations which are withheld, secured Whelan's presence in Albany, where the arrest was quietly made.

A Hard Story—How Doctors "Treat" Patients in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.

A sensational story is published to the effect that one Dr. Eberlin, a fledgling physician, using drugs on a married lady patient, outraged her under pretense of treating her, and then by vile arts gradually alienated her affections from home and family. She confessed and then went crazy and is now in an insane asylum. The wronged husband tried in vain to kill the physician. Eberlin himself says the woman made advances to him, which he repelled, but his story is not much credited.

Distress in Ireland.

WATERBURY, Conn., Feb. 13.

Bishop Fogue of Ireland, acknowledging a draft for several hundred dollars recently sent for the relief of the distressed in Ireland, writes that the number of people stricken is not so large as in 1879, but accounts coming from distressed districts are more heartrending than any received during that period. Thousands of poor creatures will not be able to suppress the cry of distress much longer.
